VICTORIA IN LINE

WITH THE INSTALLATION OF AUTOMATIC signals Victoria is now in line with most of the other communities of the Pacific Coast which have found these devices to be the cheapest and most effective means of controlling traffic. It will take some time for the community to adjust itself to the innovation, but eventually it will be accepted as a matter of course and there will be an orderly movement of motor cars and pedestrians in place of the haphazard activities which have prevailed here until now and which have been the despair of visitors.

The alternative to these signals would have to be the stationing of police constables for the direction of traffic at our busiest intersections, but this would be a costly business, because it would involve the enlargement of the police force and it would cost the taxpayers about ten times as much as it does to operate the signals. For five cents an hour motorists and pedestrians are being taught how to avoid accident and inconvenience at intersections, where at certain times of the day there used to be almost a chaotic movement of people and cars.

The lesson ought to be welcomed by the pedestrians, who need it more than the motorists, and who in many instances have been in the habit of wandering all over the streets with a sense of irresponsibility which, while a stimulating exhibition of independence, was decidedly dangerous. They now must subordinate their sturdy individualism to the necessities of better traffic control.

Yesterday The Times printed a list of directions issued by Chief of Police Heatley which can be reproduced here with advantage. Here they are:

Don't start your car in motion until the signal above you shows green.

Don't start to move at the first bell.

Don't fail to keep to proper traffic lanes if you are making a turn at an intersection.

Don't speed up to an intersection in an effort to make a crossing before the light changes. This is a dangerous practice and often results in fatal accidents.

Pedestrians must not loiter while crossing intersections.

Pedestrians must keep to the right side of the pedestrian lane in order to keep traffic moving evenly.

Jay-walking at intersections or in the middle of a block will not be tolerated.

Don't walk across the street when the signal is against you. You are endangering your own life and the lives of others.

The prohibition of jay-walking can not be emphasized too much. This free and easy practice of crossing from one side of a street to the other is one of Victoria's outstanding characteristics, a survival of the good old days when people followed the cow trails and could take short cuts without the danger of any consequences beyond the sting of a hornet or a wasp. But those days are gone forever. Motor traffic is ubiquitous, and not a few fatalities have followed the practice of jay-walking in recent years. This is one tradition which must now disappear with the installation of automatic stop-and-go signals.

NEW BRUNSWICK VOTING TO-DAY

THE VOTERS OF NEW BRUNSWICK have been to the polls to-day to pass their judgment on the record of the Tilley administration and elect a new Legislature. This is the first general contest with Mr. Tilley as the leader of the government. He was Minister of Lands in the Richards administration, succeeding to the Premiership in 1931 on the retirement of Mr. Richards. The leader of the Liberal forces is Mr. A. A. Dysart. Both men are lawyers and both are graduates of Dalhousie.

At the general election in 1930, the Conservatives won thirty-one seats out of forty-eight, but the standing of the parties at the end of last year was as follows: Conservatives, twenty-seven; Liberals, fifteen; vacancies, six. As in 1930, the fight is a straight one between the two parties. No candidates are running under any other label, so the test of strength will be a clear one.

Special interest is centred in to-day's polling because it is being regarded as a sort of preliminary canter to the national event which will be brought on in Mr. Bennett's own good time. New Brunswick is one of the two remaining provinces under Conservative rule. The other is Prince Edward Island. A victory for Mr. Dysart would be somewhat disconcerting for Mr. Bennett but eminently satisfactory to the forces of Mr. Mackenzie King.

During the last year or so Liberalism in Canada has been continually in the ascendant. Nova Scotia and British Columbia showed unmistakably the state of public feeling in two widely-separated parts of the country. The verdict last year in Ontario and Saskatchewan was even more convincing, while several federal by-elections produced results indicating the unpopularity of the present government at Ottawa.

LEAGUE ON THE SPOT

REPORTS OF THE CONFERENCE OF Hon. Anthony Eden with Mussolini suggest that Italy is determined either to establish a protectorate over Ethiopia or require a mandate to rule the African country. But as Ethiopia is a member of the League of Nations and as such is entitled to all the privileges and protection inseparable from its membership in that body, it is hard to see how either demand can be recognized.

The situation which exists between Italy and Ethiopia puts the League of Nations in a spot as hot as the dispute between China and Japan over Manchuria did several years ago. If Italy's collaboration with the other major powers of Europe in the cause of "solidarity" is to be purchased by giving her a free hand to destroy the sovereignty of Ethiopia, there is no assurance of protection for any small country in its membership in the League, and it might as well withdraw.

The League of Nations was formed largely to prevent the very thing Japan did to China, and incidentally is still doing, and the policy Mussolini is adopting in regard to Ethiopia. It was not intended to be a limited affair for the benefit of a few big powers in Europe concerned only for their own protection.

TRANSIENT FAMILIES

ALTHOUGH THE NUMBER OF PERSONS receiving relief in British Columbia is slowly declining from month to month, the number of transient families receiving aid increased during the last year by no fewer than 851. These are families which have come to this province from other parts of the Dominion and they represent 3,241 extra people on the relief rolls. The movement of people out of British Columbia, of course, is negligible. The following are the relief totals for the first five months of the present year as compared with the last two years:

	1933	1934	1935
January	121,234	111,001	100,771
February	126,902	113,398	104,713
March	126,858	115,725	102,082
April	122,048	108,618	98,955
May	116,908	105,108	94,908

The transient relief problem is all the more difficult to deal with because when these families arrive in British Columbia there is no means of discovering whether they are able to look after themselves or not. It appears that in most instances they are only in the province a few days before they apply for assistance. All this indicates that unemployment relief as far as British Columbia is concerned is proportionately more costly and complex than it is in other provinces. Some means should be devised by the federal government of discouraging the movement of people out here, unless employment is available or unless migrants have adequate means of subsistence.

A PLAN FOR YOUTH.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS A PLAN to assist 500,000 needy youths to obtain a good start in life and he proposes to earmark $50,000,000 of the four-billion-dollar-work relief appropriation for the purpose. He has created by executive order what he calls the National Youth Administration.

"I have determined that we shall do something for the nation's unemployed youth because we can ill afford to lose the skill and energy of these young men and women," Mr. Roosevelt said in a message accompanying his executive order. "They must have their chance in school, their run as apprentices and their opportunity for jobs—a chance to work and earn for themselves." The $50,000,000 will be spent during the next year for the following purposes:

1. To find employment in private industry for unemployed youths.
2. To train youths for industrial, technical and professional employment opportunities.
3. To provide for continued attendance of needy youths in high schools and colleges.
4. To provide work upon projects to meet the needs of youth.

The number who will be benefited by the four phases of the President's scheme is estimated as follows: Job training, 150,000; high school aid, 100,000; college aid, 120,000; work relief, 150,000; post-graduate aid, 3,000. The executive order defines youth to be reached by the programme as "persons between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five years who are no longer in regular attendance at a school requiring full time, and who are not regularly engaged in remunerative employment."

Of the numerous schemes which have been tried to beat the depression in the United States, and find work for the millions who have been idle for several years, this one to safeguard the mental and physical well-being of youth is an important and highly commendable one, one which ought to return a substantial yield on the investment.

Every year and in every country millions of young men and young women are being emptied out of the classrooms on to the labor market. Many of them, of course, find their niche; but many of them can not be absorbed. The Roosevelt plan should prevent much disappointment to the rising generation in the United States.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

Down in Hannibal, Missouri, they are living once again All the countless happy memories of a boy they call Mark Twain, And on Main Street they are showing still the little candy shop

Where a roguish laughing youngster with his pennies used to stop. For when age had come upon him and world-wide his fame had spread, "I've been going there for candy now for sixty years," he said.

Down in Hannibal, Missouri, young and old with eyes aglow, Are remembering a baby born one hundred years ago. They are pointing out the places where that little fellow played And the haunts he made immortal by some boyish escapade.

Till it makes you stop and wonder, if so many years have flown, What's the reason young Tom Sawyer hasn't any older grown?

Though to-day he must be ninety there is still that roguish grin, On the sun-tanned, freckled, smudgy face of Huckleberry Finn.

Bare of head and foot he scampers down the corridors of time, Still a boy who laughs defiance at the clocks which toll and chime.

Though a thousand years shall vanish, as a boy he'll still remain, Saved from age and care and sorrow by the magic of Mark Twain.

When another century passes down in Hannibal they'll meet, Some happy phrase he uttered, long remembered to repeat. He will live throughout the ages, still a source of strength and cheer.

To the countless generations that are yet to struggle here, Though it's written in the records that he died in Nineteen-ten,

Mark Twain will live forever in the grateful hearts of men. (Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest.)

Loose Ends

A great movement is launched but doesn't go far enough — Mr. Ruth is free now to lead a full life — and we are in desperate need of a stuffed owl.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SECESSION

A LOT OF FAR-SEEING fellows are advocating the secession of British Columbia from Canada. This is all right so far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. It is gratifying, therefore, to note by letters to the editors of local newspapers that still farther-seeing fellows are advocating the secession of Vancouver Island from British Columbia. This, too, is all right so far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough.

Why should British Columbia secede from Canada? Because, it is argued, its interests are not the same as those of its neighbors. In the same way, the interests of the island are quite distinct from those of the mainland. Yes, but pursuing this sound reasoning further, obviously the interests of the north end of the island are not the same as those of the south end. Nanaimo, for example, is closer by boat to Vancouver than Victoria is. The northern half of the island is commercially tributary to the mainland. Obviously, the northern end should secede from the southern end. The west coast, again, is a separate civilization, utterly distinct from the rest of the island. It must secede, of course, and set up a principality of its own.

That, too, is all right so far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. The interests of Nanaimo, a rural district, are quite distinct from those of Victoria, a great metropolis. Out here we shall have to secede in order to live our own lives freely. The commercial policies of Victoria, dominated by large business interests, undoubtedly will crush us agriculturists and our only salvation is in complete separation.

Once Nanaimo is a separate nation, however, the greedy, grasping instincts of the inner wards are bound to overwhelm us. There is no community of interest whatever between our ward and the next ward. (I forget the numbers, but ours is the one where they don't fix the roads). Our ward will have to secede. But when it does, the freeborn citizens of the west side of the ward are certainly not going to endure the domination of those wretched bungalow dwellers on the east side, who are but newly arrived from the city and still reek of it. We shall secede from them and follow our own star on the west side. And if Mr. Beak's blasted white terrier continues to walk over my new lettuce, I shall have to secede from the west side and erect a tariff wall about my garden. When this process is complete, and worked out to its logical conclusion, so that every man can pursue his own destiny in his own way, we may have a chance to live a reasonably full life.

GREAT MAN

SPEAKING OF THE FULL LIFE, I have before me a glamorous dispatch on the daily habits of that great American, Mr. Babe Ruth, who is now out of baseball. What would you suppose that a great man like Mr. Ruth would do at the height of his career and in the prime of life? This is an important question, since it offers a bright sidelight on contemporary American greatness and contemporary American civilization.

Well, it seems that Mr. Ruth "rises when he pleases. He eats what he likes for breakfast. After breakfast he lights a cigar and spends half an hour with the papers. He reads the box scores closely. In the afternoon he plays golf and then drinks a highball or two. He motors home for dinner and he spends the evening at cards or the movies."

This unutterably dull routine is the full life of one of the most notable Americans of his generation. This is the reward of a great success. It is

STUFFED OWL

I WONDER if any reader of this column has an owl to spare? I mean, among all this vast audience someone ought to have an owl to spare. I am not asking much. Just an owl. Not even a live owl. Just a dead, stuffed owl. I need a dead, stuffed owl badly and in a hurry if a disaster is to be avoided. It is only a dead, stuffed owl, propped up a pole, so they tell me, that can save us out here.

We have tried everything else. We have tried scarecrows, one of them with a silk hat, but the robins merely roosted on it, and did the hat irreparable and somewhat obscene damage. It will never be any use again. And somebody stole the tweed coat, exposing the wooden skeleton.

We also tried tying bits of shiny tin on the trees, according to an ancient English recipe, but they were worthless. The hordes of robins continued to descend on the trees and eat all the cherries. This, added to the hordes from next door, completely removed the early variety long before they were ripe. The only difference between the robin hordes and the hordes from next door is that the latter usually swallow the stones, while the former leave them.

The hordes from next door explain that it takes too long and requires too much effort to eat the cherry off the stone. It is much simpler to consume them both together.

"But," I said to the little girl from next door, "doesn't that give you a pain in the tummy?"

"We get a pain in the tummy, anyway, eating cherries, so it doesn't matter," she explained with crushing logic.

So now we want an owl. They tell us that a stuffed owl, perched on a pole near the trees, will terrify all the robins and avert a complete crop failure. We thought this would be easy. We thought we could get a stuffed owl in any second-hand store. But just try to find a stuffed owl. At one time they decorated every mantel shelf in the Victorian era, when people appreciated real beauty in the home. Now hardly anyone has a stuffed owl. It is a great mistake.

One second-hand dealer offered us a stuffed pheasant, which had lost its original tail and to which had been attached what I took to be the tail of a grouse, but we didn't think it would terrify the robins sufficiently. We got on the trail of a stuffed owl down on Johnson Street but when we caught up with it, the creature turned out to be a pirannia, badly moth-eaten. The second-hand man said he would take $3 for it and observed that it would look elegant as a house decoration. When we said we wanted it to save our cherry crop, he didn't argue any more, but seemed glad to see us leave.

We are still without an owl and the cherries are melting fast. Don't leave yourself short, but if you have a stuffed owl to spare, which you don't need for the next couple of weeks, I shall be glad to pay a reasonable rent for it.

Lodge, No. 2, was elected as Grand Master for the ensuing term.

For the first time in many moons Victoria has won a lacrosse victory on the grounds of the New Westminster club. The local boys defeated the New Westminster squad 6 to 5 after a close fast match. Victoria is now leading the league with four points. Vancouver is second with two points and New Westminster is last with nil.

Eleven sperm whales were taken by the steam whalers Orion, St. Lawrence and Sebastian on the west coast last week. This is an unprecedented number of these whales, the product of which is very valuable. The new whaler William Grant is at the Queen Charlotte Islands preparing to commence hunting at once.

There was a splendid turnout of the members of the Knights of Pythias yesterday for the annual memorial day services. The two lodges, Far West No. 1, and Victoria No. 17, met for the event. At 2:30 o'clock a long procession headed by the Fifth Regiment Band, started for the cemetery. At the rear of the long procession were five carriages, conveying members of the Pythias sisters lodge, one hack being loaded with flowers. Each member of the procession carried a bouquet in his hand.

MASSED SUNDAY SCHOOLS

To the Editor:—With further reference to the massed meeting of Sunday schools, and all young people as reported in Saturday's Times, may I state that it is desired by the committee to make this event include all Sunday school children and young people's societies, as far up-island as can conveniently attend.

Will those superintendents of Sunday schools, Christian Endeavor or Y.P. societies who have not received a letter asking for their co-operation in this city and island-wide gathering, please accept this invitation, as an earnest request that they mobilize their groups and join in this united witness for God and His Word, in our wonderful Beacon Hill Park on Sunday next at 2 p.m.

Spaces will be reserved wherever possible. Some schools are parading to the scene, others will meet at a given place so that all may be with their teachers or leaders.

Beauty of New Park Praised At Opening

Hon. Frank M. MacPherson
Officiates at Goldstream Ceremony Attended By Nearly 200 Persons

Amid the beauties which the sun's rays produced as they shone through the overhanging limbs of large cedars and cottonwoods, and the gentle murmur of the stream which was once washed for gold by the pioneers of British Columbia, Victoria Goldstream Park yesterday afternoon was officially re-opened by Hon. Frank M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works.

The ceremony, attended by provincial and civic dignitaries, was carried out before a crowd of nearly 200 persons. Several carloads of visitors arrived after the opening ceremony.

Alderman Andrew MacGavin, chairman of the water board, presided at the opening, introducing Mayor Leeming, who in turn introduced Mr. MacPherson and Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins who has been largely responsible for the work which has been done on the grounds.

FOUR GROUNDS

The minister, with officials of his department, was conducted on a tour of inspection of the grounds by the mayor, following a luncheon at which the mayor was host. After the tour the opening was conducted on the banks of the stream near a new footbridge which has been constructed for the convenience of picnickers in the large grounds approaching the flats, and which also serves to dam the river and form a wading pool.

To Mr. MacPherson and officials of his department, Alderman MacGavin expressed his sincere appreciation of the co-operation which the city had received in the development of the park. "He has helped us wonderfully," Alderman MacGavin said. On behalf of the water board he also thanked the mayor and Alderman T.

W. C. Hawkins who had taken a particular interest in the project. The latter, he said, had given many days' time to the work while the mayor had also taken an active interest.

Mayor Leeming reviewed developments of the property which had finally resulted in it being further improved by the city for park purposes. When it had been taken over from the Esquimalt waterworks its natural beauty had been preserved by the late Joseph Sayward and subsequently it had been the city's aim to open it as a public park, he said.

"We have no idea of the beauties of this park," his worship said, telling how he and the government officials had measured some of the trees and found them to be of from twenty-six to thirty-six feet in circumference.

BEAUTY IS STRESSED
People of Vancouver Island often referred to the beauty of Cathedral Grove and the large timbers which it contained, but the mayor believed that the timbers of Goldstream Park were as large if not larger than those of the up-land grounds. The public, he said, would realize its beauty when the park was opened. He estimated it would take four or five years to properly develop the grounds as was intended.

His worship appealed to picnickers for assistance in preserving the grounds, saying, "to destroy this standing beauty would be a crime against man and against nature."

The mayor told of the co-operation which had been received from the Public Works Department in connection with the development. There had been a government grant of $1,000 given toward a road into the property and there had been wholehearted assistance rendered by officials of the department. He expressed thanks to the government for their aid.

The mayor expressed the hope that the provincial government might take over the Indian Reserve grounds on flats and lease them to the city to provide an ideal athletic field for picnickers.

Whatever had been done by the government had been done in a spirit of co-operation, Mr. MacPherson stated. City equipment had been loaned the government for work on the island highway near Goldstream and the government had reciprocated by supplying equipment for the park development.

GREAT CHANGE MADE

Mr. MacPherson said he had never seen such a change in a piece of property in as few weeks, in his life. It was one of the most scenic spots of the island as far as Mill Bay, he said.

He referred to the damage wrought by floods in the Goldstream area last January. This had not daunted the city fathers in their plans for a city park and he felt the council should receive unstinted praise for the work it had done. Victoria, he said, was universally known for the beauty of its parks and this property was another valuable addition. Mr. MacPherson also spoke a word of praise for the citizens for the manner in which they kept their gardens in conformation with the beauty of the parks.

He assured the gathering that his department would consider it a pleasure to co-operate further with the city in the development of the park, and then declared the grounds officially open.

SUITABLE OPENING

As if to mark the occasion with proper ceremony the first water flower over the new walk across the river, a few seconds after the minister had concluded his speech.

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins followed the minister. In a brief talk he paid warm tribute to the spirit of the relief laborers who had been engaged on the project and assured the audience that they had each given a full day's work every day of the week for the last few weeks.

During the afternoon refreshments were served in a marquee with the city fathers acting as hosts while ice cream was given away to the children. The visitors were also entertained with an archery display by local enthusiasts.

GUNNAR MINES TO BUILD MILL

Canadian Press
Toronto, June 27.—Addressing shareholders of Gunnar Gold Mines, located at Beresford Lake, Manitoba, Gilbert A. LaBine, the president, said the company's cash position was sufficient to finance developments up to the erection of a mill. It was proposed, he intimated, that present shareholders would be given first opportunity to provide the money for a mill, which was expected to cost around $110,000.

Some construction work, said Mr. LaBine, will be done on the mill this year and the equipment will be transported to the property next winter. The site was still to be settled but a 150-ton plant was being considered. He expected the mill would be in operation by next March.
James Houston, mine manager, announced that mill ore would run about $14 to $15 per ton, with milling costs of about $5.
Rockville, Md., June 27.—Two reporters of The Washington Herald yesterday were sentenced to serve ninety days in jail and the American Newspapers Inc. was fined $5,000 for publishing the verdict in a murder conspiracy trial before it was announced by the judge.

The depressed price of farm products is a problem with which everyone is familiar, but on the 1913 basis farm products have never been as low as gasoline. Between 1913 and 1920 gasoline did not rise in price to nearly the same extent as farm products, yet since 1920 its price has almost continuously declined. The data for the above graph are based on figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

FAIR LABOR POLICIES BENEFIT THE CONSUMER

WORRY and unhappiness are enemies of efficiency. We have always tried to be efficient and years ago we said, "to the greatest extent possible let us get worry and unhappiness out of this organization—out of the minds of every man and woman in our employ."

So Imperial Oil has always paid high wages. It set up sickness and death benefits, a pensions plan and group insurance for its workers. It made it easy for them to share ownership in the Company. It gave them a voice in the discussion of Company policies that directly affect them. It introduced the forty-hour week, thus increasing the number of those who work for the Company.

Efficiency and loyalty are repaying the Company for all these measures. Imperial Oil employees give generously of their hands and minds because they are well treated. They feel secure and this feeling is reflected in their work and in the high quality and lower cost of the products they make. The consumer benefits, the employees benefit and the Company benefits by these policies.

Pirates of Venus

CHAPTER VI

Even though I did not shrink from death, even though the world's best astronomers have assured us that Venus must be unfitted to support human life, that where her surface is not unutterably hot it is unutterably cold, even though she be oxygenless, as they aver, yet the urge to live, that is born with each of us, compelled me to make the same preparations to land that I should have had I successfully reached my original goal, Mars.

Slipping into a fleece-lined suit of gossamer, I donned goggles and a fleece-lined helmet; then I adjusted the oxygen tank that was designed to hang in front of me, lest it foul the parachute, and which can be automatically jettisoned in the event that I reach an atmosphere that will support life, for it would be an awkward and dangerous appendage to be cumbersome while landing. Finally, I adjusted my chute.

I glanced at my watch. If my calculations have been correct, it should strike in about fifteen minutes. Once more I returned to the periscope.

The sight that met my eyes was awe inspiring. We were plunging toward a billowing mass of black clouds. It was like chaos on the dawn of creation. The gravitation of the planet had seized us. The floor of the cabin was no longer beneath me—I was standing on the forward bulkhead now, but this condition I had anticipated when I designed the torpedo. We were diving nose on toward the planet. In space there had been neither up nor down, but now there was a very definite down.

From where I stood I could reach the controls, and beside me was the door in the side of the torpedo. I released three batteries of parachutes and opened the door in the wall of the inner torpedo. There was a noticeable jer, as though the parachutes had opened and temporarily checked the speed of the torpedo. This must mean that I had entered an atmosphere of some description and that there was not a second to waste.

With a single movement of a lever, I loosened the remaining parachutes; the I turned to the outer door. Its bolts were controlled by a large wheel set in the centre of the door and were geared to open quickly and with ease. I adjusted the multipiece of the oxygen line across my lips and quickly spun the wheel.

Simultaneously the door flew open and the air pressure within the torpedo shot me out into space. My right hand grasped the rip cord of my chute; but I waited. I looked about for the torpedo. It was racing parallel with me, all its parachutes distended above it. Just an instant's glimpse I had of it, and then it dove into the cloud mass and was lost to view; but what a wondrous magnificent spectacle it had presented in that brief instant!

Safe now from any danger of fouling the torpedo, I jerked the rip

I wondered what these beings would be like, and if my excitement grew as I anticipated the wonders that were soon to be revealed to my eyes. I believe that it was a pious impulse, under the circumstances. Upon the threshold of such an adventure who would not have been moved to excitement by contemplation of the experiences awaiting him?

Now I removed the mouthpiece of the oxygen tube entirely and found that I could breathe easily. The light beneath me was increasing gradually. About me I thought I saw vague, dark shapes among the cloud masses. Shadows, perhaps, but of what? I detached the oxygen tank and let it fall. I distinctly heard it strike something an instant after I had released it. Then a shadow loomed darkly beneath me, and an instant later my feet struck something that gave beneath them.

I dropped into a mass of foliage and grasped wildly for support. A moment later I began to fall more rapidly and guessed what had happened: the parachute had been up-taken by the foliage, and I was clutched at leaves and branches, fruitlessly, and then I was brought to a sudden stop; evidently the chute had fouled something. I hoped that it would hold until I found a secure resting place.

As I groped about in the dark, my hand finally located a sturdy branch, and a moment later I was astride it, my back to the hole of a large tree—another theory gone the ignominious path of countless predecessors. It was evident that there was vegetation on Venus. At least there was one tree; I could vouch for that, as I was sitting in it, and doubtless the black shadows I had passed were, other, taller trees.

Having found secure lodgment, I divested myself of my parachute after salvaging some of its ropes and straps from the harness, which I thought I might find helpful in descending the tree. Starting at the top of the tree, in darkness and among the clouds, one may not be positive what the tree is like near the ground. I also removed my goggles. Then I commenced to descend. The girth of the tree was enormous, but the branches grew sufficiently close together to permit me to find safe footing.

I did not know how far I had fallen through the second cloud stratum before I had lodged in the tree nor how far I had descended the tree, but all together it must have been close to 2,000 feet; yet I was still in the clouds. Could the entire atmosphere of Venus be forever fog laden? I hoped not, for it was a dreary prospect.

The light from below had increased a little as I descended, but not much. I descended dark shoes—under E continued to descend. It was tiresome work and not without danger, this climbing down an unfamiliar tree in a fog, at night, toward an unknown world. But I could not remain where I was, and there was nothing about to entice me upward; so I continued to descend.

What a strange trick fate had played on me. I had wanted to visit Venus, but had discarded the idea when assured by my astronomer friends that the planet could not support either animal or vegetable life. I had started for Mars, and now, fully ten days before I had hoped to reach the red planet, I was on Venus, breathing perfectly good air among the branches of a tree that evidently dwarfed giant Sequoias.

AVOID ENCOURAGING CHILD TO ESTABLISH BAD BEDTIME HABITS

Most adults have a pet method of soothing sleep. One may read herself to sleep—whatever the hour—another smoke cigarettes, make his mind a blank, count sheep, assume some particular position, all with the notion that unless he or she does one of these things, he is doomed to sleeplessness.

Children very quickly also become fixed in habits which relate to sleep. Some children have favorite dolls or animals without which they cannot go to sleep, some children suck their thumbs or fingers, some a pet blanket corner. Some cannot lie down until a certain cover or sleeping bag or comforter is adjusted over them, no matter what the temperature.

RIDICULOUS HABIT

After a time these habits tend to get on the parent's nerves. They are less concerned with the harmfulness of the habit than with its persistence and its ridiculousness. The child looks silly sucking upon a sheet, howling clean, and, when the object happens to be a blanket from which he cannot be separated even long enough for it to be washed, the habit becomes reprehensible.

Perhaps none of these habits would fasten themselves so firmly upon the child except that parents themselves are somewhat the beginning to foster any act which helps the child to go to sleep quickly. So they thrust a favorite toy upon him each night with the promise that the toy will keep him company. Then, when the child connects the toy so completely with sleep that one is impossible without the other, the parents begin to regret the habit they have begun at such pains to establish.

Fred Landsberg Camp Is Formally Opened

Bishop MacDonald Officiates
in Absence of Lieutenant-Governor at Sunshine
Camp Ceremony; Tributes to Founder

In the presence of the first group of mothers and children to receive its hospitality this season, together with many interested friends of the undertaking, the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp at Saseenos was formally opened yesterday afternoon.

Rev. John Hugh MacDonald, Bishop of Victoria, officiated in the stead of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, whose absence was referred to with regret by the bishop and by P. E. Winslow in their addresses.

TRIBUTE TO FOUNDER

Mr. Winslow, president of the Friendly Help Welfare Association, in introducing Bishop MacDonald, referred with emotion to the loss sustained to Victoria in general and charitable causes in particular by the passing of Mr. Landsberg, through whose efforts the camp was started ten years ago.

The speaker regretted that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor had been unable to attend the last three openings of the camp.

In tribute to Mr. Landsberg's memory, the assembly stood with bowed heads for a moment.

In declaring the camp open, Bishop

MacDonald supplemented the tribute to Mr. Landsberg, and commended the change of the name of the camp to the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp in his memory.

Declaring that he would be glad to do all possible to further the interests of the camp, the bishop continued: "If there was more charity between men and between communities and districts, there would be less need for work of this nature."

WORKERS COMMENDED

He spoke in appreciative terms of those who had made the camp possible, and commended all those who give such splendid service to the community in undertakings of this nature.

Commander C. H. R. Slingsby moved a hearty vote of thanks to Bishop MacDonald, who was accompanied by Rev. Father C. T. Albury, Rev. William Crouch and Rev. Father Schoelen were also present from Seachich.

CAMP ROUTINE

In an informal talk telling of camp routine, Miss Elizabeth Grubb, general secretary of the Friendly Help Association, explained that mothers and children at the camp rose at 7.30 o'clock in the morning and breakfasted at 8 o'clock, after which children participated in a flag-raising ceremony.

For the next two hours, children indulged in games, handicraft instruction and play upon the beach.

Lunch was at noon, afternoon tea at 4 o'clock and supper at 5.30 o'clock. Evenings were taken up with concerts, campfire meetings and sewing circles.

Campers were chosen from Greater Victoria, and the camp was supported entirely by voluntary contributions.

Each mother was expected to do about twenty minutes' work per day around the camp.

STAFF INTRODUCED

Mrs. Grubb introduced Mrs. A. E. Williamson, camp "mother"; Miss Pauline Rockwood, recreation leader; Mrs. W. Munkley, cook, and Miss Kate Bentham, nurse. They were assisted by two voluntary workers, who came out for terms of two weeks, she said.

Ice cream was distributed to mothers and children by courtesy of the Royal Dairy, after which tea was served under the direction of Dr. Olga Jardine, camp convener.

Mrs. C. M. Macdonald presented the camp with a photograph and records.

Auxiliary Gives Generous Help To Jubilee Hospital

Over $2,500 Expended By Women's Group Last
Year, Annual Reports
Yesterday Reveal; Doctors and Directors Express Gratitude

Since 1928, the Women's Auxiliary has been giving generous and practical assistance to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, but 1934-35 is almost a banner year in accomplishment to judge by the reports presented at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. John Phethean, the president, in her address recalled the early history of the auxiliary. The need of the hospital is as great to-day as it was then, for progress in hospitalization means continual renewal and addition of equipment and supplies, she noted, and one of the auxiliary's big gifts in this Jubilee year was the portable X-ray equipment.

The president expressed thanks to all who had assisted the auxiliary to attain their objective, to the board of directors, Miss Mitchell, and Dr. W. T. Walker, the superintendent, for their co-operation, and to the Junior W.A., of which the senior body is justly proud, she said.

RADIOLOGIST SPEAKS

Dr. H. H. Murphy, the radiologist, in a brief address paid tribute to the W.A. for its generous gifts of a portable X-ray machine and of the diathermy and galvanic units as being of immense value to the hospital. He announced that Miss Madley will enter the hospital as a student intern in the physiotherapy department at the beginning of July.

Dr. Walker and S. J. Drake, president of the board, also added their need of praise to the work of the auxiliary.

GENEROUS GIFTS

Gifts made to the hospital by the auxiliary during the year, as recorded by Miss Margaret Curry, the secretary, in her report included: Towards portable X-ray machine, $1,098.78; two bed-pan sterilizers, $460; one instrumental sterilizer, $175; linoleum for utility room, $65.66; linoleum for men's medical ward, $211.40; three steam group kettles, $115.50; three goose-neck lamps, $48; one electric heater, $27.50; two wheel chairs, $150; for blood transfusions, $25, as well as flannellette, cotton flannel, unbleached cotton, baby blankets, diaper cloth, towels, case-mat cloth for the maternity floor, which is in the special care of the auxiliary.

Miss Curry noted the membership was approximately 350 in good standing. In June of last year, the board had handed over two magnificent fox furs to be disposed of by the members. Tickets had been sold during the summer and at the Fall Fair, and the sum of $575 was thereby added to the treasury.

SOURCES OF REVENUE

The hospital ball in October, held in conjunction with the Junior Auxiliary, had been an outstanding success, netting $800 for each auxiliary.

The annual linen shower was held in November, when 955 gifts of linen and $68 in cash were gratefully received. The annual tag day in April resulted in the collection of $554.41.

The nurses' graduation exercises and ball were held in May, to which the usual refreshments were given by the auxiliary. From June 5 to 15, the annual membership drive took place and the sum of $611 was received.

At the last sewing meeting of the year, Mrs. J. L. Crimp retired after five years' service as convener, the members expressing their love and appreciation of her work by presenting her with a handbag.

THANKED FOR HELP

On behalf of the auxiliary, Miss Curry thanked all who had assisted in the work, including the mayor and council, the reeve and council of Oak Bay, Harle & Orms for the use of their store as the headquarters on the tag day, The Times and Colonist for publicity, David Spencer Limited, for the use of the store in the membership drives, the Arion Club for the proceeds of a concert, the nurses and all who helped with tagging, the Junior Women's Auxiliary, the Daughters of Piety and all hospital organizations who had assisted in any way.

DISBURSEMENTS HEAVY

Mrs. T. G. Sheppard, in her report as treasurer, said that the receipts during the year had amounted to $2,536.94, which, together with a balance in the bank from last year of $851.44, made a total of $3,388.38. The disbursements amounted to $3,268.00, leaving a bank balance of $1,120.38.

In the Queen Victoria memorial maternity ward account, the receipts amounted to $43.46, with $559.41 as balance from the last statement, making a total of $602.87, and the disbursements were $183.84.

Mrs. J. L. Crimp reported 1,000 pieces having been completed by the sewing committee; Mrs. McKeown reported that $694.56 had been spent on materials by the buying committee; Mrs. E. H. Griffiths reported for the visiting committee.

Miss Vida Shandley, secretary of the Junior Women's Auxiliary, read the report of the year's work of that auxiliary, which proved of great interest to the members.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

The election of officers reported as follows: President, Mrs. John Phethean; first vice-president, Mrs. Hermann Robertson; second vice-president, Mrs. Cecil French; third vice-president, Mrs. L. G. W. Tallamy; secretary, Miss Curry, and treasurer, Mrs. Sheppard.

The committee conveners were appointed as follows: Membership, Mrs. P. E. Taylor; sewing, Mrs. E. S. Heisterman; buying, Mrs. Angus McKeown; publicity, Mrs. A. Ross, and the vacancy on the executive will be filled by Mrs. McCaull.

Women of Moose Install Officers

An interesting event was held on Monday evening by the Victoria Chapter No. 26, Women of the Moose, in the K. of P. Hall, which was artistically arranged with flowers for the impressive installation ceremony, which was witnessed by many friends and members from Maple Leaf Legion No. 53 and Junior Order of Moose No. 65.

Prior to the installation a short meeting was held at 7.30 p.m., with Senior Regent E. Jane presiding. With drill team and guides escorting, District Deputy Grand Recorder of B.C., Mrs. E. Deane, who paid her official visit, was introduced and welcomed by the senior regent, Mrs. O. Randy reported no members ill.

Initiation of a candidate for membership into the chapter was then carried through by officers and team. Announcement was made of a tea to be held at the home of Past Regent A. Hatcher, 3625 Sunas Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, July 3, from 2.30 to 5.30 p.m. There will be stalls, tea and teacup reading and other attractions.

At 9 p.m., the installation of officers took place, with Grand Installing Officer Mrs. E. Deane; Grand Installing Guide, Mrs. M. Pearce; Grand Chaplain Mrs. E. Elscott; Grand Pianist Mrs. Glover; Captain A. Hatcher and drill team officiating, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Senior regent, Mrs. E. Jane; junior regent, Mrs. F. Hocking; chaplain, Mrs. M. Carter; recorder, Mrs. H. Parker; treasurer, Mrs. E. Burke; guide, Mrs. O. Randy; assistant guide, Mrs. M. Crabtree; sentinel, Mrs. M. Robertson; organist, Mrs. M. Morry, and pianist, Mrs. T. Alexander.

Deputy Grand Recorder Mrs. E. Deane gave a brief outline of Mooseheart, the school that trains for life. This year there is a graduating class of 116, compared with 1079 when there were five. Heading this year's class is Donald Anderson of Vancouver, who entered the home at the age of nine; also Emil Gurkiss of Ladysmith.

Moosehaven has brought contentment and made many happy members who otherwise would have had to bear many hardships in the autumn of their lives. Mrs. Deane was thanked for her enjoyable address.

Past Dictator G. Allen, Dictator of Lodge No. 1390 J. Johnstone, and Dictator of Junior Lodge No. 65 R. Hayward gave short addresses.

Senior Regent Jane then presented Mrs. Deane with a lovely bouquet of red and white carnations for her work, bouquets were also presented to Mrs. M. Pearce, Mrs. E. Elscott and Mrs. Glover, who carried through the installation splendidly.

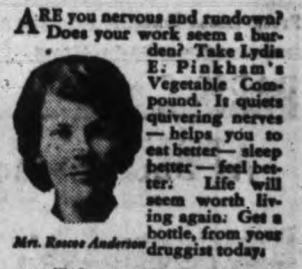

Tribute was paid to two officers, who were retiring from office, Mrs. E. Brown and Mrs. E. Clark, who received bouquets in appreciation of their work. On behalf of team and guides, Captain Mrs. A. Hatcher was presented with a lovely bouquet of red and white carnations, and she in return presented each one of the team with a corsage bouquet.

On behalf of the chapter Mrs. E. Deane presented a bouquet to the senior regent, who thanked the members for electing her for another year and hoped for their continued co-operation and captain for the splendid operation. She congratulated the team being Misses N. White, D. Guelpe, Madeline J. Kelly, H. Allen, C. Drysdale, R. Isaacson, E. Carroll, C. Bohannon, K. Herring and S. Wetherall.

The evening was brought to a close by an enjoyable buffet supper served by Madames E. Clark, T. Alexander and R. Panting, and others helping.

See Bumper Season For Tourist Trade

This is the time of year when the Canadian business, which holds the bulk of the tourist trade during the spring months, gives place to that of the United States. By the beginning of next month the business will be entirely American.

HAILED BY NEW ROADS

The Publicity Bureau reports that the tourist traffic here is being considerably aided by the opening up of two main traffic highways in the United States, one following the coast, and the other running direct into Montana.

An interesting indication of what Victorians may expect this summer is contained in a letter received by the Bureau from the C.P.R. agent in San Francisco, who wrote them unsolicited that he was meeting a steady and ever-increasing demand for literature about Victoria.

Ferry operators report their business already considerably up from last year. The new Edmonds route is carrying the bulk of the increase.

Canadian Airways Limited, who put a twice-daily service into operation next week, report their business about double that for the same period last year.

Auto camp operators report that their reservations for the season are coming along well, and they expect the volume of trade this year to be about the same as in 1934, which for them was a good year.

Antique dealers state that the last two weeks have seen a fair improvement in business, but in their opinion people are not yet ready to spend money quite so easily as formerly. "We shall be lucky if we do 20 per cent better," said one of them.

CLOTHING OPTIMISTIC

One of the leading clothing stores in the city, which has a large tourist clientele, was more optimistic. "They have quit talking about the depression," said the owner. "It's much easier to do business this year. The season for them is only just starting now and they found it difficult to make an exact estimate of its possibilities. A good sign, one store owner said, was the number of inquiries from clients of former years."

NEW RULING HELPS

A new ruling put into effect by the Customs Department is expected to give a considerable boost to the tourist traffic. This year visitors can keep their cars on the island for six months without bond, instead of the former limit of three months. Up to the end of May of this year the Customs Department cleared 630 foreign cars, and 309 Canadian, bringing a total of 1,937 passengers. Last year up to the same month, 470 foreign and 243 Canadian cars brought 1,673 persons.

The movement so far this month has brought the total of foreign cars cleared close to the 1,000 mark for the year. By the end of the month it is expected the total will be well past that mark.

Washington is the state which this month provided the most of Victoria's visitors, with California practically an equal second, according to figures which are being kept by the customs officers for the first time. But these are not by any means the only states from which the cars come. Oregon this month has brought about a third as many tourists as the two leaders. Other states from which one or more cars have come during June include Nebraska, Texas, Arizona, Michigan, Maryland, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Iowa, Montana, North Dakota, Kansas and New York. The district of Columbia and the territory of Hawaii are other contributors.

FLY IN OILMENT

However, there is one fairly large fly hovering over the tourist trade, and that is the matter of strikes. Future strikes on the waterfront in Vancouver or Seattle, or in this city, would set traffic a long way back.

The tourist who plans his vacation in the form of an automobile trip or sea trip usually is reckoning within a fairly close table. If he hears of strikes or the possibility of strikes in the district to which he is traveling, he will quite probably decide not to take the risk of being tied up in some far away place and forced to go beyond the time limit which he had planned for his vacation.

Government Road Surfacing Plan Is Announced To-day

Continuing northerly towards Leston and Spence's Bridge, further sections of highway are ready for paving, and approximately twenty miles are included in the programme. Between Spence's Bridge and Ashcroft, a section of eight miles of improved highway will be surfaced, adjoining narrow sections are being improved for treatment later. At Cache Creek and Savona, and on to Kamloops, further lengthy sections are included in the year's programme.

Continuing easterly, additional improved sections are included near Monte Creek, and in the vicinity of Salmon Arm, where existing pavement will be linked up—also sections where ready in the vicinity of Revelstoke.

IN OKANAGAN

Similarly, several lengthy sections of the Okanagan Highway will be treated near Enderby, Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton. Continuing along the shore of Okanagan Lake, some thirteen miles will be included in the programme this year. Also the highway through Oliver and on to Osoyoos will be surface treated, connecting with the pavement at the U.S. boundary.

A section in the vicinity of Greenwood is provided for, and a similar amount east and west of Grand Forks. Between Trail and Nelson, where heavy traffic exists, are sections totally twelve miles, which will be included in this season's programme.

In addition provision is made for a few miles east of the Nelson ferry towards Balfour.

SOUTHERN ROUTE

Plans provide for commencement of hard surfacing on the southern Transprovincial Highway through east Kootenay; the section from Curson Junction through Yalak to Ryan, where the highway has been improved, as well as the Kingsgate connection, will be undertaken in the first instance.

Preparatory work on the highway between Ryan and Cranbrook will be carried out by government forces; and the Department of National Defence, to be followed next season by surfacing. Between Eiko and Fernie, approximately twenty miles along the Great Northern grade will be surfaced, also at Crow's Nest, where a four-mile National Defence project has been completed. It is proposed to surface treat some ten miles of the Kootenay-Columbia Highway, south from the end of the Banff-Windermere Highway. A further section of the Kimberley Highway has been improved and will be surfaced.

The highway from near Aldergrove to the U.S. boundary, and No. 5 road, south of the Fraser River Bridge, will be surfaced; also the Rosedale Ferry Road extended one mile to the ferry landing. The gaps in the surfacing of the Lougheed Highway, between Pitt River Bridge and Mission, will be completed and surfacing extended from Hatzic easterly to Deroche.

On Vancouver Island it is proposed to confine the improved surface work to gravel sections which are ready, particularly between Merrville and Campbell River, and south from Alberni to connect with the existing pavement, with the exception of two small sections which require improvement.

A three-mile section of the Malahat, north of Langford, will be improved to the standard of the work now being carried out at Goldstream. Preparatory work prior to surfacing the Cowichan Lake Road will be undertaken, and necessary improvements are planned for the road to Sooke.

At various points in the northern interior reconstruction will be undertaken this year on important main thoroughfares, particularly the northern Transprovincial Highway at various points between Terrace and Tete Jaune; the Barkerville Road; some sections of the Cariboo Road, and the main road into the Bridge River mining area.

The low cost type of bituminous surface—adjusted to the traffic requirements of each section of road to be treated—will be used throughout. Drainage work necessary on all roads to be improved is provided for, and will constitute an important feature of the programme.

The policy of undertaking hard-surfacing this year on sections of the trunk system across the province, which are in proper condition, and at the same time bringing those adjoining up to standard for treatment the following year, and continuing the scheme in the immediate succeeding years, will constitute a progressive and well planned scheme, which will gradually provide a hard surfaced highway across the province, connecting with all important U.S. ports of entry, the province of Alberta and the National Park Highway system.

The work, carried out in co-operation with the various relief projects and the works in hand by the Department of National Defence, will render those operations the more valuable, inasmuch as the linking up of effort on the various undertakings will make for economy and the successful conclusion of the whole programme.

B. C. Nicholas Addresses
Upper Island Trade Board
at Forbidden Plateau

Courtenay, June 27.—While Vancouver Island has a favorable balance in its tourist trade the province as a whole has an adverse balance and efforts were needed to adjust this position, declared B. C. Nicholas, editor of The Victoria Times, in an address to the Courtenay-Cornwall Board of Trade Tuesday night in Forbidden Plateau Lodge.

These efforts, said Mr. Nicholas, should be concentrated in three major directions:

(1) Publicizing attractions of the province in other countries.

(2) Provision of adequate facilities for tourists while they were here, such as good roads, cheap ferry rates.

(3) The preservation of natural beauties which were the chief tourist attraction.

As an instance of what has been done in improving tourist facilities, Mr. Nicholas humorously described a former trip on horseback to the plateau in contrast to the comfortable ride he had just experienced, and attributed great credit to C. S. Wood, who had done so much to make the plateau so readily accessible to visitors.

Mr. Nicholas described the Forbidden Plateau as the finest asset on Vancouver Island from many and diversified angles. Not least amongst these was the great benefit of the altitude for health and the scenic charms all its own.

The whole island should get behind the development of this wonderland, and he would like to see Victoria put some capital into it and make it something the whole province may be proud of.

The possibilities of winter sports development were also very important. PIONEERS ON ISLAND

The speaker described the people of Vancouver Island as pioneers of the tourist industry and gave comparative figures indicating the rise and fall of the business for the last several years. He impressed on his hearers the necessity of advertising our attractions abroad and said that the competition for the tourist industry has now become a fight.

This tourist trade is a vital, fundamental contributory factor in the development of the country, said the speaker, and explained how the contact of different human beings from different parts of the world was of inestimable value to all concerned.

While the development and improvement of roads was of paramount importance, still Canada could not expect to compete successfully with the 125,000 or more people in the United States who were economically bound to develop a more perfect system of highways than those in Canada.

Touching on recent tourist excursions, he paid a tribute to James Macfarlane, who was present, for the recent successful excursions on the E. & N. Railway.

ECONOMIC VALUE
Describing the various aspects of travel, Mr. Nicholas showed the economic value the tourist gave the places visited and the settlement of home-seekers that often resulted.

The educational value of travel was also great, it showed the peoples of other places that the people of Canada were not Eskimos living in igloos surrounded with eternal snow, and travel was an agency of incomparable value as a means of extending good will.

ADOPT BLANKET INSURANCE PLAN

A blanket policy for the insurance of city schools was adopted by the trustees of the city at a special meeting yesterday evening. The board will carry a policy totalling $610,000 on buildings and contents valued at $1,000,845.

The plan is estimated to cost the board $4,580 for three years, compared with $5,782 paid out by the board for the three years ending last year. The scheme will add a total of $92,450 to present policies in force.

The blanket policy was recommended by the finance committee after several months' study in which it was discovered the scheme would be more economical and more satisfactory to the board.

POPULATION SHRINKS

Nanking, China, June 27 (Canadian Press).—The six counties which the Communists held in southern Kiangsi for six years show a net decline in population of 327,562, according to reports from the provincial agricultural association. These six counties now have a population of only 735,711, and the women exceed the male population by 12,500. Vast areas of once productive farm lands are lying idle.

ping them now is lack of roads." He was in favor of the government using the toll system for road improvement, and said that the city's bridge over the Tsalum, which was acquired by the city for one dollar, would cheerfully be turned over to the government for fifty cents.

George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, and Graham Harris of Victoria, attended the meeting.

MOTHERS, you can make milk more tempting and more digestible for your child by making it into delicious desserts with Junket Powder. But by adding the Junket enzyme, milk takes the form of a fine, soft, delicious custard, which can be digested in one half the time.

Children love these Junket desserts with their tempting flavours and colours. And Junket takes only a moment or two to prepare.

DROP IN STEEL OUTPUT IN WEEK

Cleveland, June 27.—Steel works operations declined 3½ points to 35½ per cent in the United States last week, due to a sharp reduction in demand for the majority of finished steel products, the magazine Steel's Weekly Review said. The reduced demand was somewhat offset, however, by a substantial increase in structural shape awards.

Automobile assemblies last week totaled 90,000, only a few hundred units less than the preceding week. Specifications for parts for fall models already are making their appearance, leading to a belief the automobile industry will be partially successful in eliminating the usual midsummer slump.

Steel's iron and steel composite is down one cent to $32.40, with the finished steel index holding at $54. Scrap prices were off eight cents to $10.38.

AIMEE HOME

Resplendent in a Paris costume, a wide-brimmed black hat with white trim, perched jauntily on her blond coiffure, Aimee Semple McPherson came back from her world tour of soul-saving, landing in New York to predict a "tremendous sweep toward religion soon." With her she brought 350 new hymns, an opera, and a costume from every land visited.

Stories in STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

THWARTED, degraded, the butt of political intrigue, Thomas Lord Cochrane, Earl of Dundonald, became one of the greatest heroes of Latin America. Chile, particularly, honors this great genius for his leadership of its naval campaign in its war of independence from Spanish rule. "El Diablo" the Peruvians called him because of his fierce courage. Especially was he "El Diablo" in his use of fire ships and rockets, a scheme of destruction he had picked up in his earlier experiences against the French fleet.

Cochrane went to Chile's aid in 1818, when his own country had turned its back on him. From Chile he went to Peru, then to Brazil, and finally Greece put him in command of its navy. But in 1847, Queen Victoria restored him to naval rank and compensated him for the disgrace which he had suffered.

While first honored Lord Cochrane with a stamp in its issue of 1910 commemorating its independence, the stamp shown here was issued in 1915.

LAWN BOWLING

BUCKSIDE CLUB
The annual "Longest Day" mixed

rink tournament held on the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club green on Saturday evening was a gala occasion for many members of the various lawn bowling clubs in Greater Victoria. While seventy-two players of both sexes participated, and the green was divided into nine rinks for the occasion, some thirty more would have played if there had been more greens available.

This event is one of the most popular among the law bowlers of this city, and it is estimated that a record attendance was registered this year. At the conclusion of the twenty-four-end game, refreshments were served by the Burnside Women's Club, appropriate thanks being voiced on behalf of the visitors by Dave Dewar, the popular veteran from the Victoria Club.

The team composed of Mrs. Davis, C. P. Smith, A. MacAllan and Pat Harris, having a phenomenal margin of twenty-four shots to the good, were awarded the prize by President A. W. Stewart.

Cotton Yields First Place To C. A. Whitecombe In British Golf

THE SPORTS MIRROR

RALPH ALCOCK, whose "rubber ankles" once brought howls from hockey fans as he put on his comic skating stunts in the old arena and who has rocked crowds with glee over his clowning at other sports events, writes in deadly earnest about his present charges, young and old swimmers, at the City's Gorge Free bath house.

His chief cause for concern is the attitude of some swimmers who shout blithely for help when they are not in danger and his next most serious cause is caused by water-wings and other buoyant gadgets used by non-swimmers who are prone to paddle themselves, beyond their depth.

In the several years he has been attending at the Gorge, Ralph has chided many a number of victims. When swimmers are in a pinch, Ralph is there to help them. But if there's one thing that gets under his sun-tanned skin, it is the senseless call for help by the person who is not in difficulties.

Back in the old school books, teachers used to dwell with some insistence on the story about the boy and the wolf. "Perhaps the moral of the yarn is more applicable to swimmers at the Gorge than to any other group of people enjoying holiday sports. There is comparatively little danger in swimming in that vicinity, provided, the swimmer has commonsense, but naturally the deep water and swift running current under the bridge call for the exercise of natural caution.

Those who shout for assistance, whether in joke or with malice, when they do not require it, are transgressing one of those unwritten laws which apply to any swimming hole. They not only make a fool of the person who goes to help them as well as themselves, if they are not in trouble, but they also may cause a potential rescuer to turn a deaf ear to a legitimate call. That is why there are no fake calls for help by swimmers.

Ralph is highly pleased with the cooperation he has received from parents in the matter of water-wings and rubber tires last year. Very few children were allowed out of their depths by their guardians, unless they could swim. But, he notes, there is always the chance of an accident if beginners use these artificial aids without supervision. He looks for continued assistance from parents and older swimmers in that respect again this year.

Last year, Ralph reports, a young non-swimmer floated through the current under the bridge on a pair of water-wings. It may have been a daring trick, according to the youngster's ideas, but it might have turned out fatally.

"Victoria and the surrounding districts have a record of which they can be proud of during the last few years in the small percentage of drowning accidents that have occurred. It is up to the parents to help keep this record by warning their children when they go bathing against any danger they may encounter," Ralph states.

As a further means of minimizing drowning fatalities, the quiet-spoken attendant will continue his classes in life-saving this year, teaching all who wish to learn. His course will open a week from Monday.

Ryder Cup Veteran Cards 68 On Second Round To Take Lead

Sixty-two Qualify For 32-hole Stretch Scheduled To-morrow

WIND HAMPERS LATE PLAYERS

Associated Press

Muirfield, Scotland, June 27.—Battling a stiff head wind that at times reached gale strength, Henry Cotton, the defending title-holder, yielded the lead to-day in the second round of the seventy-two-hole British open golf championship to Charles A. Whitecombe, forty-year-old veteran British Ryder Cup team player.

Starting early and escaping the roistering wind that blew up later, Whitecombe covered the Muirfield layout in 68-four under par—for a thirty-six-hole aggregate of 159, while Cotton went out in 35 and then faltered badly on the greens, taking an incoming 39 for a 74 and a total of 142—good for a tie for second place with Alf Padgham, a British professional.

After a glittering first round 69, Macdonald Smith, the Glendale, Calif., veteran, took a second round 77 for a total of 146. He was bracketed at that figure with William Lawson Little Jr., San Francisco, who added a 71 to his previous 75.

With 163 the borderline, sixty-two players qualified for the double-round stretch drive to-morrow.

AMONG QUALIFIERS

Among them were such stalwarts as Ernest Kenyon of Britain with 70-74-144; Aubrey Bommer of France, with 70-69-145; Archie Compson with 75-74-149; Henry Picard of Herby, Pa., with 72-73-145; R. A. Whitecombe with 75-75-150; Epi Easterbrook with 75-73-148; and Ernest Whitecombe with 75-72-147.

Aubrey Bommer's round of 69 included five birdie threes, although he came slipping a hole in the sixth, for the sixth on an outgoing 33—three under par. He came back in 35.

His card follows:

Out 34445335-35
In 34445335-35-69-145

With birdies on the second, third and fifth and ninth holes, C. A. Whitecombe slipped a hole in the sixth, for the sixth on an outgoing 33—three under par. He came back in 35.

His card follows:

Out 44444334-34
In 44444334-34-68-139

SMITH SLIPS

Macdonald Smith went out in 38, taking a five on the first and hitting the rough on the sixth. A six on the sixteenth made his incoming card 39 for a 77.

Smith's card:

Out 54435335-35
In 44435335-35-77-146

Leon Little got his drives under control and went out in 35, one under par, and came in with a 36.

Cotton was even with par through the fourth hole. He bagged a birdie three on the second, where he ran down a sixteen-foot putt.

At the short fourth Cotton slipped over par for the second time in two days. He overthrew the green, chipped back and missed a three-foot putt, taking a four. At the fifth he took a par five, remaining even with par.

A birdie three on the sixth hole enabled Cotton to go out in 35, one under par.

DON MOE AND GIVAN MEET

Stars Play To-day in Quarter-final of Pacific Northwest Golf Tourney

Associated Press

Seattle, June 27.—The fate of the draw furnished two matches in the quarter-finals of the Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament to-day which would rank well as the championship battle in any tournament.

In one, Don Moe of Portland, twice western amateur champion and a former Walker Cup player, was pitted against Harry Givan, long-driving ace of Seattle, who has been a contestant in national meets, and in the other Scotty Campbell of Seattle, twice winner of the Canadian amateur, was paired against Eddie Hogan of Portland, former Northwest amateur and open titlist.

It would be possible for the winners to meet in the finals Saturday as they are playing in opposite brackets. In the other two matches, H. Chandler Egan, fifty-one-year-old Medford, Ore., star, winner of the national amateur in 1904 and 1905, and still going strong, was drawn against Dick Haskell, Seattle youngster, and Clyde Finlay and Harry Hjert made up an all-Seattle contest.

TODD OUT

Finlay eliminated Jimmy Todd of Victoria, 2 and 1, yesterday.

Three California, three Oregon and two Seattle survivors in the women's division moved to Seattle golf club course from the Broadmoor layout to-day to settle their golfing argument.

The draw was as follows:

Mrs. L. J. Teicher, Berkeley, vs. Mrs. C. B. Ford, Seattle.

Miss Iva Liston, San Jose, vs. Miss Florence Sellars, Portland.

Miss Marian McDougall, Portland, defending champion, vs. Mrs. L. Wingham, Seattle.

Miss Barbara Thompson, Palo Alto, vs. Miss Fatsy McKenna, Portland.

Egan and Givan gave the spectators a series of thrills yesterday, the former coming from behind to defeat Ernie Piper, and the latter giving away the last hole by playing the wrong ball to bring the match even and then sinking a thirty-five-foot putt on the extra hole to nose out Lee Stoll, Seattle, at the thirty-seventh.

EAGLES TAKE BAD LACING

Commercial League Leaders Lose First Ball Game of Year to Sons 12 to 1

Making nine hits for a dozen runs, Sons of Canada gave the Eagles a 12 to 1 lacing in a Commercial Baseball League fixture at the Athletic Park yesterday evening. It was the first defeat for the feathered flock in six starts and the result brought the Sons within one game of their league-leading opponents.

"Sonny" Walker, who has still to have his twentieth birthday, starred on the mound for the Sons, holding the opposing nine to five hits and not more than one hit in any single inning.

TRIPLE FATAL

In his appearance for the Eagles, Fitcher Joe Emery ran into some trouble. The Sons bagged three runs in the second and four in the fourth. George Gandy's triple to left field in the fifth, with the bases loaded, sent Emery to the showers. The Canadians added five runs to their total in this inning, completing their scoring for the game.

"Barney" Barnswell succeeded Emery on the mound and held the Sons of Canada hitless for the remaining two and two-thirds innings. The games was called after the first of the eighth.

Palmer and Kuwabara, of the Sons of Canada, smacked out doubles, and Bennison, Eagles' left fielder, stole three bases.

Score by innings:

Eagles 00001000-1
Sons of Canada 03045000-12

LEAGUE STANDING

The league standing follows:

Eagles W. L. Pct.

The next game will be between the Tillamooks, raw on a winning rampage, and the Navy at 6 o'clock to-morrow night at Athletic Park.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, paper gives to the historians of the world the medium on which they record their work — yet no historian has ever been able to set down the history of paper. The origin of the art of making paper is lost somewhere in the forgotten past of the Orient — for the Chinese were the first, as far as anyone knows, to discover how to make paper.

Local Track Men To Seek Honors

Police and Y Teams to Compete in Vancouver on Saturday; Association Squad to Continue to Powell River

Chief Heatley's flying cops and Archie McKinnon's winged Y boys will journey to Vancouver to-morrow night for the Vancouver police sports on Saturday with one of the strongest teams the city has sent to the mainland in quest of honors in that meet.

Headed by Joe Addison, who will represent the bobbies instead of the Y.M.C.A., the police team will include Alex Briggs, Claude A. Belcher, Steve T. Drummell, Sam McKinnon and Louis Callan, coach.

Addison plans to make it a field day, entering just about every event he can in the track division. The rest of the team will split their efforts between middle distances, sprints, weight and field events.

Without Addison, McKinnon will pin his hopes on Bill Dale, Chuck Cunningham, Ralph Shepherd, Alec Gaunt, Paul Rowe and Jim Cousin.

Y CONTENDERS

Cunningham and Dale will compete in the half mile and mile, Gaunt and Shepherd will take the quarter, while Paul Rowe will run in the century and furlong dashes, with Shepherd joining him in the shorter distance.

Cousins, outstanding Malahat schoolboy, will go after the high jump laurels.

Following the police meet on Saturday, Addison, Dale, Rowe, Owen Cunningham and Alec Gaunt will proceed to Powell River for the big meet there on Dominion Day.

Dale will run the mile and half mile, Addison the quarter and Rowe the two sprints with Owen Bentley joining him in the hundred. Addison will also take in the hurdles and Rowe the broad jump, while Wilson Johnson will compete in the 100 and 200 yard junior events.

AFTER RELAY HONORS

The team, with specialties on the half mile relay, which McKinnon is particularly anxious to capture, Rowe, Addison, Bentley and Gaunt will run in that order in the feature.

Big Men Will Meet Saturday

Hans Steinke to Battle Tony Catalano in Feature on Tilticum Mat Card

The faithful, who take their wrestling straight at the Tilticum gym on Saturday evening, will see 485 pounds of German and Italian bone and muscle pound through eight or less ten-minute rounds in Promoter Fred Richardson's card, this week-end.

The weight will represent Hans Steinke, Hitler man, who packs 200 pounds, and Tony Catalano, 11 Duce's representative, who will spot the significant Tilticum forty pounds.

Neither of the grapplers have appeared here before, but they have heard up impressive records in other cities and should prove a good drawing card.

In the semi-windup Andre Adoree and George Jenkins will continue their unquelled dispute of last week when they went to a draw. The bout is scheduled for five eight-minute rounds.

A local preliminary will open the card at 8:45 o'clock.

BIKE TRIALS THIS EVENING

The first of three-time trials will be held by the Victoria Cycling Club, starting at 8:30 o'clock to-night. There are two events, one for juniors under eighteen, and the other for seniors, eighteen and over. The starting point will be the corner of Quadra and Market Streets.

The senior winner last year was W. Fowmallet and the junior winner was Neil Duval. Dates for the second and third trials will be announced later.

Shawnigan Wins Softball Game

Shawnigan Lake softballers humbled the Malahat nine, 15 to 8, in a league game played at the lake on Tuesday. The winners scored five runs in each of the fourth and fifth innings. Bonford was the winning pitcher.

A local preliminary will open the card at 8:45 o'clock.

Brown Bomber Rated Present Fistic Top

Bout With Baer Confidently Expected in September; Schmeling Prepared to Fill in Or Meet Winner

Associated Press
New York, June 27.—In less than two weeks and with less than two dozen paralyzing punches, Joe Louis has forced a sharp revision of the fistic future.

Whether Louis gets a "shot" at the title, the "Brown Bomber" from Detroit has taken the heavyweight headlines from the people's choice for champion, James J. Braddock. He is to-day the focal point around which all the dickerings, maneuvering and bellyhoo will be centred for some time to come. The twenty-one-year-old negro has suddenly become "top" as

Helen Moody and Helen Jacobs Advance in Women's Section of Wimbledon Tourney

Canadian Press

London, June 27.—Fred Perry, England's ace tennis player, eliminated John Van Ryn of East Orange, N.J., in the feature match of the Wimbledon tennis tournament to-day.

The score was 4-6, 6-7, 6-5, 10-8. Perry overcame at first and let Van Ryn work his way to the net for some smashing kills. He tightened up thereafter, however.

Margaret Scriven, a strong favorite in the women's singles, defeated Mrs. D. C. Shepherd-Barrow, 12-11 6-3, in a second-round tilt.

The two chief United States threats, Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Helen Mills-Moody, both won their matches. Helen Jacobs had a stiff fight to oust Rolin Couquerque of Holland, 6-4, 6-4. She played with a damaged finger. Mrs. Moody easily defeated Adeline Yorke, English girl, in a first round match, 6-3, 6-2.

BUDGE WINS

Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., eliminated Adrian Quist of Australia in straight sets, 6-0, 7-3, 7-3, to enter the fourth round.

Vivian McGrath of Australia defeated Martin Leagey of France, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, while Christian Bousais of France downed E. Gaborwitz, Hungary, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Sidney Wood, another United States hope in the men's singles, eliminated D. H. Williams of England, 6-0, 6-7, 6-2.

WOMEN TO PLAY SOFTBALL JULY 1

A Dominion Day softball feature will see Kresge's Cardinals, undefeated leaders of the women's section of the Lower Island Softball League, stacking up against Northfield Blue Ribbons of Nanaimo in a doubleheader at Central Park. The first game will start at 2 o'clock and the second will follow immediately afterward.

FINE MIXED CARD BILLED

Nine Fast Bouts on Mount Stephen Programme To-morrow Night

Louis Newman, Swedish wrestler, will stack up against Ed. Dune, snappy grappler, in the main mat event on to-morrow evening's mixed card of the Mount Stephen Athletic Club, at Mount Stephen Avenue open air arena. Both boys are 165 pounds, and will go six five-minute rounds. The curtain raiser will be at 8 o'clock.

In the other wrestling bouts Al. Garnet will match grips with Bud Kerchin and young Ernie Arthur will tangle with young Gus Sonnenberg.

The box bouts will bring together "The California Slaughterer" and the "Alaskan Killer" in the special ricki-cuff event. Rudy Holstein and Bill Winsky will throw gloves at each other in the semi-final.

Other boxing matches will include Ted Orchel vs. Dickie Reid; Young Weldon vs. Jimmie Hott and Red James vs. Billy Blackburn.

The main event should provide plenty of action. Newman is known to be a rough and ready wrestler, and Ed Dune, who was trained by a well known local grappler, knows the tricks of the game.

Next week there will be nine events.

In the Hudson's Bay total of 77, Fitch got 18, Baker 16 and Jones 16. Peers starred with the ball, claiming seven wickets for 40.

B.C. All-stars Down U.S. Team In First Lacrosse Game

Visitors Beaten Handily In First Match of Series

Lack of Experience Feature As Lally Cup Holders Lose 15 to 7

Have Hopes For Next Encounter

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 27.—An all-American lacrosse team, defeated in its first championship battle with an all-star British Columbia squad yesterday evening, hoped to-day to benefit by their first experience with the indoor "boxla" variety and reverse the decision in tomorrow night's game at New Westminster.

The United States intercollegiate hustlers were undoubtedly handicapped by a lack of knowledge of the indoor game as they bowed before a clever, fast Canadian team 15 to 7 in the first of a best-of-five series for the Lally Trophy and the International championship.

They used their weight to great advantage in the opening period as they held the Canadians at almost even terms but they faded in the next two sessions and their final rally was too late to be of value.

The visitors squashed through the smaller Canadians in the opening period, bowling them over like nine-pins and leaving 7,000 fans dumbfounded but wilted under the terrific pace.

Two coast veterans, Haddie Stoddard and Angie McDonald, who have been wielding the gutted stick for more than twenty years, played a prominent part in the Canadian triumph.

The monstrous Johnson in the United States goal turned in a sparkling performance despite the fifteen goals that slipped by him. Literally showered with rubber he turned off almost a dozen shots a quarter.

Joe added two points to his second-place average, bringing it up to 368 with two hits in four times up. Pep Young, third in the National League and fourth in the section, suffered a six-point drop as he hit only twice in eight trips to the plate in a double-header. One of his blows was a home run.

CHAMPIONS IN THEIR OWN RIGHT

Margaret Jenkins School is closing for the summer holidays the proud possessors of three trophies won in four bids. The cups are for soccer, girls' softball and boys' softball. The school won the junior soccer cup from Oaklands, champions last year, in a keen game at Athletic Park. They edged Central School out to win the south section. The girls won the softball cup easily, winning every game and defeating Victoria West in the final. The boys' softball cup final was hard fought and won by last inning rallies. The school team played overtime with South Park to win the south section and beat Oaklands in the final by scoring five runs in the last over time making the score 12 to 10. The school recently held a sports meet at Hollywood Park where the cups were presented. The Bloom Cup, for the athlete of most value to his school in a sporting way was presented to Charles Dunaway. School letters were given to Phyllis Hobbs, Pam Jones, Alec Merriman and Alex Walker.

The personnel of the various teams, as shown in the above pictures, follow:

Crucial Softball Matches To-night

City Title May Hinge on Brunson's Silent Glows Battle; Bert Waudes Object

The city softball championship hinges to a large extent on the result of two matches carded for to-night and also on the decision on a game that was scheduled but did not take place yesterday evening.
Leading "A" section of the Lower Island Softball League, Brunson's Boys will stack up against the second-place Silent Glows at Athletic Park. Tommy Brunson's nine has a narrow one-game advantage over the burmen, but a win to-night for the former will just about put the Silent Glows out of the running, since there are just three more fixtures this season for each team after the smoke clears to-night. A win for the burmen, however, will tie up the race for "A" honors once more.

Giants Not Yet Certain Winners

National League Leaders Show Well at Home, But Have Hard Struggle Against Lowly Opponents; Buccaneers Back in Second Berth

Associated Press
The events of the last couple of weeks seem to be almost enough to take the heart out of the teams trying to overhaul New York Giants in the National League pennant race.
A gratifying home stand, during which they licked every outstanding rival, has put the Terrymen on top of the world, but when everything is taken into consideration there is still plenty of room for doubt.
The Giants trimmed the Cardinals and Pirates thoroughly, but they got no better than an even break with the comparatively humble Reds and had a hard struggle to take the odd game of their series with the fourth-place Cubs.

The league leaders finished with a record of twelve victories and six defeats for the interseasonal series after trouncing Chicago 5 to 2 in the final clash yesterday, while the Cubs won two and lost seven in their tour of the east.
Hal Schumacher was the principal reason why the Giants earned the best record of the round. Running his string to eight straight triumphs, he turned in a neat eight-hit game yesterday, and had a shutout in hand until the ninth inning, when everything was well under control following Mr. Ott's fourteenth homer of the year in the eighth.

PIRATES BEAT BRAVES
The Pirates meanwhile climber back into second place by bowing over the Braves twice, 4 to 2 and 5 to 1, while the Dodgers upset St. Louis 7 to 5 in a ten-inning struggle.
The Phillies slugged it out with Cincinnati and won 12 to 5, as George Watkins pounded out two homers and Dioph Camilli tossed in his fourteenth of the year among the fourteen blows off four pitchers.

The American League programme was a complete blank, as rain halted the opening Detroit-Chicago clash, the only one of the schedule.
COAST LEAGUE
Maybe "Gaby" Street can retire to his Missouri farm after all. He said before the Pacific Coast League season started last spring that if the Missions won the pennant this year he would quit baseball and give his time to farming.
To-day the Reds have only Los Angeles as company in the top spot of the circuit.
Wayne Osborne turned in another brilliant performance yesterday as he led the Reds to an 8 to 1 victory over Sacramento.

Los Angeles made a race track of Portland's ball field yesterday evening, scoring eight runs in the first inning, to defeat the Ducks, 9 to 3. Oakland advanced another notch on the comeback trail by registering its second consecutive win over Hollywood, 4 to 3.

San Francisco began hitting in the last two innings of their game with Seattle, getting two runs, but the rally was staged too late. The Indians started scoring in the third and defeated the Seals, 4 to 2.

TRAFFIC COUNT HERE SATURDAY

Pedestrian traffic in Victoria will be counted on Saturday at forty different points by representatives of the city assessor's department, according to an announcement made by George O'Neil, city assessor.

This will be the annual count which serves to guide the assessor in establishing the value of business properties in the city. It will be made between 11 and 12 o'clock and 4 and 5 o'clock.

The purpose of this count is to determine the flow of traffic in the city every year. Its results are often important to real estate men and persons interested in the location of the leading shopping districts and often has an important effect on the sale of properties.

Premier Pattullo has been advised that B.C. relief workers will converge on Victoria for a demonstration July 22.

Scenes of Province Displayed at Hotel Greeters' Convention in Los Angeles

British Columbia was well represented at the "See America First" exhibition held recently in Los Angeles by the Hotel Greeters of America, according to reports received this morning by the Provincial Bureau of Information.

Working in co-operation with Leon C. Shelly, president of the Hotel Greeters of British Columbia, the bureau supplied ten photographic enlargements of scenes in various parts of the province. The pictures contributed greatly to the success of the exhibition, and enabled the provincial charter to take first prize in a keenly contested competition in which California and many of the eastern states were represented.

Apart from the large amount of favorable publicity which accrued from the display, British Columbia was placed prominently before the convention on numerous occasions and the provincial delegation declared themselves entirely satisfied with the results of the exhibition.

Dr. A. S. Lamb, traveling provincial medical health officer and chest specialist, will hold a chest clinic in the Jubilee Hospital, on the week beginning July 2. Examinations at this clinic are free. Those wishing consultation are asked to make arrangements through their family doctor.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Beverly Hills, Cal., June 27.—To the Editor of The Times: The first battle of the next war was fought in New York City Tuesday night. Big Italy met little Abyssinia and Mussolini's first spring drive was halted in its tracks. General Joe Louis, head of the American philanthropists (new friends of Abyssinian liberty), a Mr. Bradock, Mr. Baer (not "Bugs") and even a German, a Mr. Schmeling, has contributed to make Mr. Louis's trip to Africa more permanent.

Yours,

BEST GARDENS BEING CHOSEN

Oak Bay Winners Announced As Horticultural Society's Drive Continues

Sponsoring a competition under the slogan "Gardens That Beautify Our Streets," in connection with the current tourist trade development drive, the Victoria Horticultural Society this morning announced its decision on the five gardens in Oak Bay that contribute most to the beautifying of streets.

These gardens were to Frank Ingram, 3449 Cranmore Road; Samuel Quinter, 189 Beach Drive; Joseph H. Lee, 2461 Central Avenue; Clarence A. Griffiths, 1360 St. Patrick Street, and John S. Arnold, 1146 Victoria Avenue.

TO HOLD VOTE

For the purposes of this competition, Victoria and district has been divided into eight sections. The five best gardens in each section will be announced, and all those attending the society's annual flower show will be given a ballot on which they will record their preference among the forty gardens named by the society.

Another district already adjudged is Victoria southeast, or Fairfield. The five selections were: C. A. Steele, 87 Howe Street; George I. Warren, 1244 Dallas Road; W. H. Wightman, 35 Wellington Street; B. H. Anderson, 724 Linden Avenue, and W. A. Turner, 1519 Finewood Avenue.

The other six districts include four in the city, together with Esquimalt and that part of Saanich within the city limits. The results in these districts will be announced shortly.

SMALL GARDENS

Officials of the society point out that only small gardens are eligible for the competition. This rules out, in particular, several big gardens in Oak Bay and practically all the gardens in the Uplands. The competition also embraces only gardens clearly visible from the street, not those that are walled in. The specific measurements call for less than 120-foot frontage and not more than two city lots in extent. The competition is not confined to amateur gardeners.

A. B. Harness was convener of the society's Oak Bay committee, and Dr. A. O. Price of the southeast district committee.

British Columbia grown bulbs have received a favorable reception in China and there are prospects of improving the market, according to word received by Hon. K. G. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture.

In the autumn of last year a shipment of tulips, narcissi and iris were sent by the department to the superintendent of municipal parks at Shanghai through Col. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian trade commissioner. They flowered exceptionally well and the Shanghai Municipal Council now proposes to place an order for more, which will be planted this fall.

E. W. White, district horticulturist, packed the bulbs, which arrived in perfect condition.

J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will leave at the weekend to attend a series of Farmers' Institute District Conferences in the Cariboo and Central British Columbia. He will make addresses on departmental work.

Dr. T. W. Sutherland of Wells was named coroner and V. M. Van of Roseland was named a justice of the peace in provincial appointments to-day.

COBBLE HILL
TEAMS LOSE

Men's Nine Nosed Out By Silent Glows 8 to 7; Live
Wires Win Easily

The Cobble Hill men's softball nine put up a great battle against Silent Glows, one of the city's best squads, at Central Park yesterday evening, losing by the narrowest of margins. The score was 8 to 7.

At the same park a women's nine from Cobble Hill did not fare so well with Live Wires, crack local women's team. The score in favor of the Live Wires was 27 to 9.

Maintaining their undefeated record in "C" section, No. 2, of the Lower Island Softball League, Equi-malist Meat Market faced the Maple
Leaves, 20 to 4, at Bullen Park.

In "D" section Duroids nosed out the Canadian Scottish, 10 to 16, at Beacon Hill Park.

RYDER CUP VETERAN
CARDS 68 ON SECOND ROUND TO TAKE LEAD

his second shot across the eighth green but recovered stone dead for a par four and then made a right smart recovery from a trap beside the green
for his par five on the ninth.

Needing even fours on the back nine
to tie Whitcomb, Cotton took a five
at the tenth when his approach caught a trap and he was forced to sink a six-footer. He had an easy four at the eleventh as his eight-foot putt for a birdie hung on the lip of the cup.

He skidded over par again at the twelfth, where his drive caught the rough. He stuck his tee shot three feet from the pin on the short third-teenth but failed to sink the putt, taking a par three. After being on the edge of the thirteenth green in two, Cotton took three putts from thirty-eight feet for a regulation five.

Cotton shot the fifteenth, sixteenth
and seventeenth in 102 figures, although he drove into the deep rough on the fifteenth. His six-foot putt for a birdie four at the seventeenth clipped the cup. He was up completely on the final hole. After driving into a bunker and putting his third shot less than two feet from the hole Cotton missed the putt and lost
another stroke to par.

O'MAHONEY TO MEET LONDOS

Conquering Irishman to Battle Greek Recognized as Champ in Many States

Canadian Press
Boston, June 27.—Wrestling
experts and gamblers, alike, seemed unwilling to hazard either predictions or money to-day as the hour approached for the wrestling clash to-night between thirty-eight states, and Dan Jim Londos, world's champion in O'Mahoney, victor in fifty-four successive matches.

Londos has remained undefeated in three years. On the other hand, close observers of wrestling have difficulty in visioning the defeat of Danno, twenty-two-year-old Irishman, who they say has come too far and too fast to be thrust into the background at this juncture. The Irish youth at 225 pounds, is seventeen heavier, six inches taller and sixteen years younger than his husky veteran Greek opponent.

DIDRIKSON AND HICKS ADVANCE

Associated Press
Chicago, June 27.—The two working girls of United States golf, smiling Heleen Hicks of Hewlett, L.I., and Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, famous girl athlete of Beaumont, Tex., did not even have to finish their eighteen-hole matches yesterday to advance to the quarter-finals of the women's western open golf championship.

Miss Hicks, winner of the 1931
United States championship, disposed of Miss Lucile Robinson, Des Moines, Iowa, 4 and 3, while Miss Didrikson, despite a sleepless night spent under physician's care, eliminated Mrs. Lawrence Seitz, Chicago, the former Jane Wulfer and winner of the event three years ago, 8 and 6.

CRUCIAL SOFTBALL
MATCHES TO-NIGHT

The game is crucial for Bert Waudes.
win yesterday evening would have put them in a second-place deadlock with Silent Glows, and a win tonight in their regular league fixture against Civic Staff, might possibly have given them the leadership of the league.

While Silent Glows and Brunson's
Boys are battling at Athletic Park, the Waudes-Civic Staff fixture will be staged at Victoria West Park. A third game will see New Method Laundry and the Army trying conclusions at Work Point. All games start at 6.30 o'clock.

his second shot across the eighth
green but recovered stone dead for a par four and then made a right smart
recovery from a trap beside the green
for his par five on the ninth.

Needing even fours on the back nine
to tie Whitcomb, Cotton took a five
at the tenth when his approach caught a trap and he was forced to sink a six-footer. He had an easy four at the eleventh as his eight-foot putt
for a birdie hung on the lip of the cup.

He skidded over par again at the twelfth, where his drive caught the rough. He stuck his tee shot three feet from the pin on the short third-teenth but failed to sink the putt,

taking a par three. After being on the edge of the thirteenth green in two, Cotton took three putts from thirty-eight feet for a regulation five.
Cotton shot the fifteenth, sixteenth
and seventeenth in 102 figures, although he drove into the deep rough on the fifteenth. His six-foot putt for a birdie four at the seventeenth clipped the cup. He was up completely on the final hole. After driving into a bunker and putting his third shot less than two feet from the hole Cotton missed the putt and lost
another stroke to par.

Attract Many Tourists To Parksville

Parksville Beach Island Playground

Visit Parksville Once—
You'll Always Want to Go Back

Parksville, situated twenty-three miles up the island from Nanaimo and only 100 miles north of Victoria on the main highway is one of the older settlements on Vancouver Island. For tourists wishing a central point from which to explore in all directions, Parksville is the ideal situation. From here, it is possible to either proceed along the east coast up the island, or branch off inland to Alberni, Spruce and Great Central Lakes, passing en route, Cameron Lake, and going through one of the most beautiful stands of timber left on the North American continent, just before climbing the mountain which divides the east and west coasts of Vancouver Island. Cathedral Grove, in the very heart of this timber stand is well known to many travelers. Then too, there are many shorter excursions to make from Parksville—a trip to Englishman River Falls or Little Qualicum Falls, a climb up Mount Arrowsmith, a drive to Campbell River or to the Comox Valley, being only a few of the many places the tourist will wish to visit.

is the wonderful sandy beach that stretches in a long gentle curve for over half a mile along the shore. The water is warm and bathing is a delight. Here, youngsters can revel with absolute safety all day long. Here too, one can look over the many islands in the Gulf of Georgia, across to the glorious mountains on the mainland of British Columbia, and enjoy the lovely sunsets and almost more wonderful still, the sun rising. For those looking for a little privacy, and perhaps for a spot to build a home, Parksville holds many advantages. A direct stage and train service makes it easy to reach Vancouver, Victoria or Nanaimo, and communication with other points can be made by telephone, telephone and mail. The climate is ideal and the pretty little village holds a charm all its own. There is a very fine new business block, a bank, general and shoe stores, real estate offices, beauty parlour, churches, as well as one of the best schools in the province. Then too, there are hotels, garages always at your service, places where you can obtain ice cream, luncheons or afternoon teas, and two general stores which can supply all needs.

GOOD AUTO CAMP
Parksville boasts several very fine auto camps. Among them the Parksville Beach Tourist Camp is outstanding. Centrally located, just off the main highway, it has a good sandy beach. The cottages and cabins are cozily furnished and there have been many parties trying their luck for salmon on the sea or the wily trout in nearby rivers. Then too, there is a local tennis club, saddle horses are available for golf course not far away, and boating to occupy many a lazy summer hour.

Camp sites alongside the sea at Parksville, or in some nook or bay close by, can be obtained at a small cost. From these campsites one can watch the children playing on the sands or bathing in the warm water without fear of any catastrophe. It is truly said, "the children will never forget a visit to Parksville." Anyone desiring to make a long stay at Parksville will find many summer cottages for rent at reasonable figures. Mr. E. Gill, a well-known resident of the district has a number of these cottages, situated on a private beach. They are all modern in every way. Mr. Gill has a tennis court on the property and many small boats for rent.

From the viewpoint of the tourist or the vacation seeker, Parksville would seem to offer attractions for all. For those who visit it, there is a distinct charm that cannot help but attract. Visited once, Parksville will be a perfect spot to remember and visit again—next time.

Excursions For the Holiday Week-end

Low-fare excursions to many of the popular island resorts and playgrounds are being offered by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines for the Dominion Day week-end.

On Sunday, special low-fare trips are being run to Shawnigan Lake, Sooke Harbor and to Victoria's newest park—Goldstream Park. In addition to these trips, a special excursion has been scheduled to Jordan River. The scenery on this trip is magnificent, and the excursionists will be able to enjoy their picnic lunches on a sandy beach facing the broad Pacific Ocean. On Monday, Dominion Day, excursions are again being run to Shawnigan Lake, Sooke Harbor and Goldstream Park, while a special low-fare trip to Qualicum Beach is being featured. Another of the popular mystery excursions is being advertised for this date also. No clues are given to the destination, except that a "long ride and a merry one" is promised. The mysterious destination boasts a good hotel and excellent picnic facilities.

For the traveler who wishes to spend the long week-end at his favorite resort or on a visit to friends, the Coach Lines announce that their special low week-end fares are in effect from Friday noon until the following Sunday midnight, with the return limit extended until Tuesday midnight, July 2.

"Tillicum" Camp New and Modern

Among the newer and more up-to-date vacation spots on the island, Tillicum Camp, on Yellow Point Road, just a short distance from Ladysmith, is foremost. Mr. Jack, the genial owner, has spent many years in northern British Columbia. Now he has come out of the north to live on Vancouver Island, with the grand idea in his mind of making the place where he lives a spot where others may be happy. He has chosen a homestead on the old Yellow Point Road where a rambling old log farmhouse nestles in the shade of mighty pine trees. Rolling farmlands fall away from the house in a gentle slope to a long curving waterfront. Along this shoreline, Mr. Jack has built many delightful summer cottages.

This new camp is on Nicholson Bay and is open for occupation—seven months of the year, from June 1 to November 1. Visitors are always welcome and very careful arrangements have been made for accommodation and comfort of patrons. It is possible to become a paying guest at the old log farmhouse, with its big rambling living-room and its wide stone fireplace, or if one prefers to be alone, there are the cottages along the shore.

These comfortable cottages have just been newly built. They are all close to the sea shore, in shady spots, with plenty of privacy for those who desire it and a wonderful sea view out over the ocean and the island in the Gulf of Georgia. Passing boats, the tide, the colorful sunrise, fresh ocean breezes and good clean air, all add to the enjoyment of a visit to Tillicum Camp.

In this delightful spot it is never hard to find enjoyment, in fact there are so many things to do—vacation hours fly all too fast. The bathing is perfection, warm salt water, so clear and clean the sandy shore can be followed with the eye far out into the bay. Fishing too, is good, and clam digging when the tide is out is a sport for those who wish to try. On the property Mr. Jack has built a badminton, croquet and tennis court and a softball field.

The road to Tillicum Camp is a branch road from the main Victoria-Nanaimo highway and meets the highway at both ends. It is a lovely drive through much wooded land and brings the tourist right to the gateway of the big new camp.

The word "Tillicum" means "friend." Mr. Jack has adopted it not only as a name for his camp but as a motto. Everyone who takes the winding Yellow Point Road and who stops at Tillicum is assured of a friendly greeting, friendly service, and the peace and rest that goes with a friendly holiday.

The letter "Q" does not occur in the names of the states nor their capitals.

Winnipeg, June 27.—Lack of foreign demand for Canada's wheat continues to restrict speculative operations on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. After a dull session, values closed $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ c lower, July at 81 $\frac{1}{4}$ c and August 82c.

Chicago, reacting from yesterday's advance, was easy to-day, off $\frac{1}{8}$ cent at one time. Liverpool closed $\frac{1}{4}$ c lower to $\frac{1}{2}$ c higher. Buenos Aires

Objections to Some Companies Act Changes

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 27.—Bond dealers today protested features of the bill amending the Companies Act, based on the price spreads report, before the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee.

Objections of the investment houses chiefly were concentrated against the provision that companies which had been inflated millions of dollars.

"That could not have been done legally," Mr. Cahane quickly interjected in referring to the foot-note on the company prospectus.

"Well it was done," Mr. Stevens replied.

Mr. Cahane pounded a note against invasion of provincial jurisdiction; but Mr. Stevens claimed the provincial field of jurisdiction was not being trespassed on.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am past twenty-eight, but due to my work and because I am bashful and a great lover of sports I have never taken any interest in girls. Never had a sweetheart. Never went with a girl even while in high school. Two months ago I met a girl with whom I have fallen desperately in love. She is wonderful. Even my father and mother think so, but my father thinks that before I marry this girl I should go with some other girls and be able to contrast her with them. He thinks I haven't had enough experience to be able to judge whether she is suited to me or not. But I know she is all right. I never was so happy in my life. When I am with her I feel like a millionaire. How about it, JIMMIE.

Answer—Well, Jimmie, you seem to have it bad. First love has hit you for a goal and so it is useless to advise putting off the wedding until you can find out whether she is the ONLY ONE or not.

But all the same your father's counsel is good. Marriage is for a long, long time and before you enter into it it is a good thing to shop around among the girls so as to be sure you are getting just what you want in a wife.

The man who marries the first girl he gets acquainted with is like a boy who buys the first thing he sees in a store. Maybe it is just exactly what he has been longing for all his life and he will never weary of it and it will always be his greatest treasure. Maybe in the very next shop he will see something far more attractive, something that makes a greater appeal to him, something that he really needs. And he may spend the rest of his days regretting that he didn't see it before he invested his all in a purchase.

Half the unhappy marriages are the result of men and women marrying before they gave the opposite sex the once-over. A boy who has never gone about much with girls thinks he has fallen in love with the girl next door or the girl he works next to in business, and he marries her. Then he meets up with another girl, who is pretty while his wife is homely, who is gay and lively where his wife is quiet and dumb, who flatters him while his wife tells him of his faults, and he falls head over heels in love with the stranger and the mischief is to pay.

Same thing happens to a girl. Maybe she has "kept company" since grammar-school days with some boy and that has kept all the other boys away, so she is really an unacquainted with the opposite sex. She is some strange animal in a way. She thinks all men are just like John and it is only after she is married to him and has a couple of children and is tied down for life, that she finds he hasn't a single characteristic that makes marriage worth while to her—and that some other man has.

The more men and women know each other before marriage, the less likely they are to make mistakes in selecting mates. And for this reason every boy and girl should go about with as many other boys and girls as possible. In that way they will be able to institute comparisons between them and find out which ones they like best.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have two beautiful and charming daughters, twenty-two and twenty years of age. We have always been the greatest companions, chums and friends and have always talked over all their little problems. Now I am confronted with one that I do not know how to settle. It has been the rule in our household that I am to be long enough for young men to stay when they come three or four times a week. Parties or dances of course, make the hours different. Lately two young men have been coming to see the girls who insist on staying until 2 or 2:30 o'clock, and when my daughters told them of my 1 o'clock rule they were so offended that they have not been back since, and I am being blamed for the unpleasant situation. What do you think is the proper time for a young man to leave when calling upon a girl?

ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Answer—I should think that 12 o'clock would be the limit of human endurance for both the caller and called, and that even before that time they must have been yawning in each other's faces. Certainly any young man who thinks that he can keep a girl entertained until 2:30 o'clock in the morning must have a superiority complex developed to the nth degree.

If he had any just appreciation of himself, he would know that long, long hours before that time he had run through his little conversational repertoire, had told all his stories, repeated all his jokes, got off all his wisecracks, expressed all his opinions, and that his poor unfortunate victim was praying Heaven he would run down and go home and let her go to bed and get some of the sleep she needed.

No man on earth can scintillate for more than thirty minutes. No man can be interesting for more than an hour at a time. And the wise man is the one who makes his visits brief and snappy and leaves the girl asking for more instead of wondering if she has to stand the maudering of a bore for what seems to her years and years and years.

If your daughters have nothing else to do but sleep until noon, they can perhaps endure the marathon calls of these never-go-home-Willies, but if they are business girls who have to punch the time clock at 9 o'clock, they will soon lose their good looks and their youth if they are deprived of their proper amount of sleep. Also, they will become dull and inefficient and do such poor work that they will likewise lose their jobs. And that is a pretty high price to pay for the society of a champion sofa-sitter.

Don't be afraid to make decent and reasonable rules about the hours your daughters keep. It may run off these two lads with the phenomenal staying power, but the kind of men that you want your daughters to marry will respect you for it. And they will be glad to get a good sleep themselves. Nothing enhances a girl's value in a man's eyes more than to have a mother who will stand up for her.

DOROTHY DIX.

Uncle Wiggily And Nurse Jane's Adventure

By HOWARD K. GARIS

After Uncle Wiggily finished his breakfast in the rabbit bungalow one morning, he said to his wife, "Well, are you going adventuring today?" "No, indeed!" said Mrs. Longears, laughing. "I thought I'd fool you yesterday and go after an adventure myself. I hid behind a bush to wait for you and you came along and I thought you were a rabbit. It was funny," laughed Mrs. Longears. "And I thought you were a rabbit and you were both fooled. Well, I'll hop along now and see if I can find a real adventure." Away he hopped and went through the woods, looking on both sides for something to happen that he could call an adventure.

Uncle Wiggily had not been gone long from the bungalow before Nurse Jane Fussy Wussy said: "Do you mind, Mrs. Longears, if I go look for an adventure?" "Why, no, I don't mind," answered the rabbit lady. "But what's the idea, Jane?"

"Oh, it's just to show Mr. Longears he isn't the only one who can have adventures," squeaked the rabbit lady housekeeper. "I'd like to surprise him and have one myself."

"I hope you do," spoke Mrs. Longears. But remember I tried to do the same thing and Wiggily had the laugh on me when I hid in a bush."

"I'm going to be more careful," said Nurse Jane. "I won't hide in a bush as you did."

"Well, good luck to you," wished the rabbit lady. So Nurse Jane, as Uncle Wiggily had done, began creeping over the fields and through the woods. She couldn't hop like a rabbit.

"I wish," said Nurse Jane to herself as she crept along. "I wish I had taken some lessons in adventure hunting. I would know more about it then. But it can't be helped. I have often heard Mr. Longears say an adventure is only something that happens to you. So I guess I shall really find one." She crept along a little faster, and all of a sudden, she slipped on the muddy bank of a brook and sat down hard.

"Oh!" exclaimed Nurse Jane when she had caught her breath, which nearly bounced away from her. "Oh, I wonder if that was an adventure?" Then she began to think that Uncle Wiggily had often fallen down but he had never said it was an adventure. "No, I guess this can't be one for me," said the muscular lady, she got up out of the mud and, seeing that her dress was dirty where she had sat down, she said: "That's all right. THIS WAS A SURPRISE."

"I will be off the mud in the brook and dry my dress in the sun. I will not need to take off my dress to do that," she stooped down by the brook and with her long tail, on which she tied a bit of moss like a spoon, she splashed water on the mud spots. But while she was doing this, all of a sudden she slipped again and came more sat down in the mud. This time she sat down so hard she was stuck. She couldn't get up. "Oh, help! help! help!" she loudly cried.

Uncle Wiggily, who was hopping in the woods, not far away, heard Nurse Jane's call, but he didn't know who they came from.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1935

This is a day ruled by adverse planetary aspects, according to astrology. Under this way there may be a reign of distrust and lack of confidence in persons and projects. While heads of government affairs are subject to stimulating influences and there may be success in public enterprises across the globe, great caution is advised.

There is a sign read as likely to increase great anxiety and worry among men and women. Excitement will affect many who seek public acclaim.

Evil reports will be prevalent wherever there is anyone who may be exceedingly susceptible to high standards of character and integrity. There will be much dissimulation, deceit and misrepresentation. They are not to be trusted as to be cultivated as never before by all who would escape ultimate misfortune.

Speculation will be avoided; nevertheless there will be many sensational fluctuations in the stock markets of the world. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes that may result in a year of changes that may result in a year of changes.

Children born on this day probably will be born of mind, emotional and yet logical. Subjects of this sign may be exceedingly successful through special gifts.

Lynna J. O'Connell, banker and one-time Secretary of the Treasury, was born on this day, June 28, 1870. She was a successful businesswoman and a philanthropist. It is a birthday which includes Herbert William Crozier, engineer, 1878, and Frederick Lincoln Chase, astronomer, 1879.
